Shaker High's Curriculum Changes Again; New Home Economics, History Programs

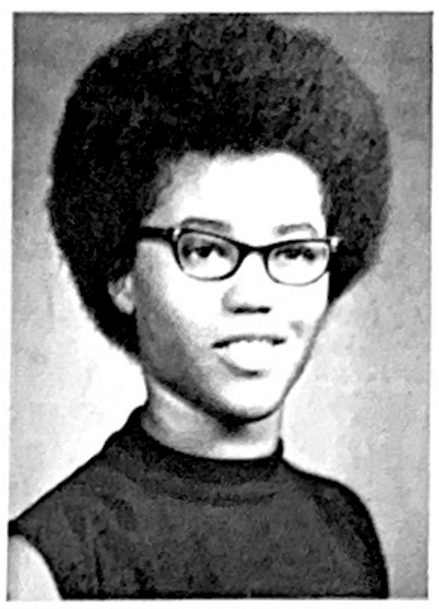
by Mollie Geismer

Students who enrolled in summer school or classes in the social studies and home economics departments for next year may look forward to several constructive curriculum changes in their courses of study.

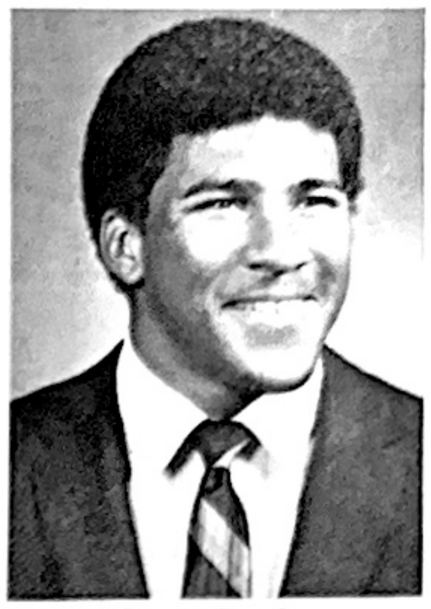
THE SUMMER SCHOOL program, following a survey of students, teachers, and parents has been shortened to a six-week session. Each class period has been lengthened to two hours. Registration will be open from May 16 until June 16. This extended period will eliminate late registration, and all classes will begin June 18.

During the first semester home economics classes will receive instruction in pre-natal care from Mrs. Thomas Pugh, Assistant Director of Red Cross Nursing Programs. The course will include, specifically, study of physiology and anatomy. An understanding of the emotional aspects of birth, general mother and baby care, and practical work will also be stressed. Each girl participating will receive a certificate from the Red Cross after completing the 15-hour course.

THE SOCIAL STUDIES department will focus on revision of existing courses rather than addition of new ones, according to Department Chairman Joseph Szwaja. The many one-semester courses offered will not be paired, so that students can combine any two which interest them. The senior urban problems course anticipates three large-group and two small-group sessions each week first semester, and plans two days of each type second semester, with the fifth day open for independent study. American history will be taught thematically to all classes, an approach introduced in team-teaching sections this year.



Carol King



Lester Brooks

Lester Brooks, Carol King Merit Citizenship Awards

The senior class elected classmates Lester Brooks and Carol King to receive the annual Citizenship Awards which the Shaker Square Association sponsors. The award commends the students' services to Shaker, their scholastic achievements, their honesty and friendliness. The class honored the students at the Honor Day assembly, Wednesday, May 27.

LESTER, WHO WILL attend Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, plans to major in history. Active in sports, he is the captain of the football team and is on the all-league, all-scholastic and all-district teams. In addition, he has been on the varsity wrestling, baseball and football teams for three years. This year, Lester has served on the evaluation committee and the spirit squad.

Carol received an award from the National Achievement Scholarship program, a scholarship key and a National Merit letter of commendation. This year, she has been vice-president of the Girls Gym Leader Club and a member of Youth Council on Human Relations. She has participated in varsity and intramural hockey and volleyball for three years. Carol will study psychology at Wesleyan University in Connecticut.

THE CLASS ALSO selected Gay Curtiss who plans to study at the University of Michigan, and Shelley Metzenbaum who will attend Stanford University as runners-up for the award. Gay is vice-president of social council, a swim leader, and a member of the synchronized swimming club. Shelley is the president of swimleaders, the chairman of the welfare committee and the secretary of social council.

The seniors chose Bill Caminati, who has served on student council committees for three years, who will study mathematics at the University of New Hampshire and president of the school, Bill Ginn who will major in history at Amherst College as runners-up for the award.

Outside Report

Creative Television Needed; Monopoly of Media Decried

by Michael Kassen

Hard news, that which actually comes across the ticker, has truly inundated this country during the past few years. Newspapers, radio, television, and magazines are developing enough importance so that the Vice-President can point with alarm to the dangerous concentration of the newsmedia in the hands of a few individuals.

ONE MUST AGREE with the Vice-President, but need not share his conviction that news is slanted toward the "liberal" side of the question by men who reside only in New York, Washington, or Cambridge. Instead, one must view with abhorrence the significant reduction in the number of outlets for newspapers, which truly tend to be more Republican in philosophy on the national level, and the trend toward control of the remaining outlets by corporate interests.

Senator Pastore, chairman of the Senate communications subcommittee, has repeatedly sought to grant near-automatic renewal to broadcasters, which would protect them from challenges to the "right" to the airwaves by citizens who desire better, more informative programming. This is fundamentally an attitude which can only benefit the "haves" in our society, and thus the Supreme Court ruled last year against such reasoning in establishing public right to airwaves.

TELEVISION CAN BE a creative force and does not need to be filled with sex and violence; the example of "Sesame Street" confirms this. Yet until the Federal Communications Commission dissolves massive corporations, such as Scripps-Howard in the Midwest, that control many markets, Mr. Agnew will be at least partially justified in his attacks on the communications industry.

Top Ten Seniors Project Majors

The ten graduating seniors with the highest academic averages have scheduled a variety of activities for the summer and have selected equally diverse college majors. With two exceptions, all plan to attend college in the East.

DON BLUMENTHAL, who is a National Merit Scholarship winner, is looking forward to attending Oberlin College in the fall. Edward Golenberg will work as a bus boy this summer. Later he plans to travel out West. Ed received a scholarship at Johns Hopkins University where he will major in pre-marine biology.

Michelle Green, a National Achievement Scholar, has enrolled at Radcliffe College where she will major in mathematics after a summer spent working at the Board of Education. National Merit Scholar Ralph Hexter plans to study language and to travel this summer. Next fall he will major in the humanities at Harvard College.

JOHN HOPWOOD will attend Haverford College after spending the summer silk-screening. Carol King, a National Achievement Scholarship winner, will study at Wesleyan University. Harvard Honorary National Scholarship winner Bill Ratnoff will major in either English literature or pre-medicine at Harvard College. This summer Bill will hold a civil service job.

Joseph Rock, winner of an Ohio Bell-sponsored National Merit Scholarship, will study psychology at Amherst College. After traveling through the West with other seniors this summer, Barry Rollins will attend Amherst College where he will specialize in bio-physics. Bonnie Solowitch will major in English at the University of Michigan. During the summer Bonnie plans to work as a book-mender.

Chernin, Solomon Pace Turkeys In Gobbling Up All Competition

by Peter Borowitz

Four months ago, some uncoordinated, inept boys in sixth-period junior gym got sick of having sand kicked in their faces. The result of their frustration was the formation of a volleyball team aptly named the Turkeys.

LED BY JEFF "Buffalo" Chernin and Jeff "Solid" Solomon, the Turkeys played exceptionally well. With the aid of the graceful Ben "Surplus" Silverman, the muscular Dale Cherry, the fierce Albert Findlay, and the towering Andy Edwards, the Turkeys easily outclassed all their intimidated opponents. The Turkey cheer, "Gobble, gobble!", however, annoyed many volleyball stars causing the formation of the Pilgrims, a team dedicated to roasting the Turkeys. The Turkeys, who, incidentally, only eat chopped chicken liver on Thanksgiving Day, defeated the outgobbled Pilgrims handily.

Turkey victories over such teams as the Pilgrims produced new respect for the team. One gym teacher, who had tolerated the antics of the cocky Turkeys, admitted that Turkey members are very enthusiastic even though they occasionally play as if they had webbed feet. Even one Pilgrim deserted to the Turkeys and formed a Turkey farm team, the Miserable Leeches. In fact, the appeal of the Turkey legend is so great that Leslie Feil, Diane Krasner, and Elaine Cassen, probably hoping for romance with some of the fine physical specimens on the Turkeys, are currently organizing a female Turkey contingent.

HAVING RECENTLY entered the badminton competition, the Turkeys have truly become an established team with their own special equipment. Turkeys proudly wear the Turkey shirt with its inscription "If the Mets can do it . . .". Turkey banners have often appeared in the boys' gym, striking fear into the hearts of such fine athletes as Harold Beverly, Pete Jones, and Ken Reisenfeld, who, though strong, can hardly compete with the Big, Bad Turkeys. Gobble, gobble!

Shaker High will hold its second study day, Thursday, June 4. Students will study at home for their exams which will start the next day. Teachers will be in school to help students study.

Instructors Siley, Sturm Await Retirement with Mixed Emotions

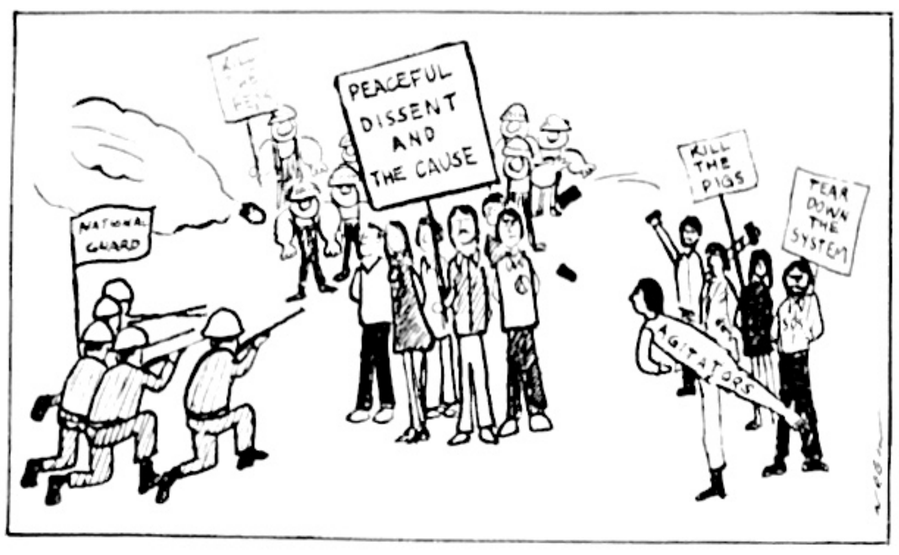
At the end of this school year, William Sturm and Dorothy Siley will retire from their present positions as biology and Spanish teachers. Both of them have devoted 20 years of service at Shaker.

MISS SILEY HAS been in the teaching profession for 30 years. She taught at Western Reserve University for 10 years before coming to Shaker. Miss Siley hopes to travel in the future. Her main hobbies are reading and gardening.

Mr. Sturm says that he has been a teacher for fifty years. Before becoming a teacher at Shaker, he taught in Glendale, Ohio for more than 20 years.

AFTER HIS RETIREMENT, Mr. Sturm plans to do more teaching. He will have adult summer classes. He does not know whether he will take up any new hobbies but he would like to continue his gardening. He hopes to travel whenever possible. Mr. Sturm added that he will really miss Shaker because he truly believes that most of the students' behavior and quality of work are excellent, despite the occasions when he was almost convinced they weren't.

Miss Siley and Mr. Sturm are retiring this year after a total of almost 50 years at Shaker.



The Real Victims of Violence

Administration Should Allow Political Activity on Campus

Last year the administration refused to allow the Students for a Democratic Society and the New Democratic Coalition to form clubs at Shaker. We now urge the administration to permit political groups to use school facilities for meetings. We think that political groups should not apply for club charters but, instead, should simply request the use of the public address system to announce meetings in the school.

The adoption of our plan would be a logical step toward the school's supposed goal of preparing students to be responsible citizens. The school should encourage student participation in politics since only through actual involvement in the political process can students truly understand the intricacies of the democratic system.

Confronted by the war in Vietnam, students must have some responsible way through which to channel their rightful outrage. In response to the students' need for political expression, the administration should allow political groups to organize in the school so that students will have the opportunity to volunteer their services during the election campaigns. Participation in elections would provide a peaceful alternative to moderate students who do not wish to express their political views violently.

In claiming that political activity has no place in education, the administration has expressed fears that such activity would polarize the school. Frankly, when Shaker students face the prospect of death in a wasteful war, we would prefer a polarized school in which many students help to end that war to a school whose silent majority does nothing.

Boys' Gym Teachers Inept; Staff Apathy Deserves Blame

In a school acclaimed for superior education, it is shocking that Shaker must bear the burden of an unbelievably inept boys' physical education department. Delinquency on the part of the gym teachers, along with overcrowded classes and facilities, has produced a great amount of antagonism toward gym by many of the students.

The lack of interest exhibited by several gym teachers is the major cause of the problem. With alarming consistency, they have reported late to class, ignoring the possibilities of a major accident caused solely by the neglect shown toward the large, unattended classes.

Admittedly, some of their distinterest may be generated by the impossible numbers which they must handle. Yet instead of retreating from the problem, or indulging in irresponsibility as in an incident in which they organized a game of bombardment using basketballs, they must meet the problem head-on with new programs.

Lack of organization within classes once they do begin is probably caused by both numerical problems and the teachers' apathy. A great deal of this chaos is caused by the department's laudable desire to develop physical fitness with their "red-shirt" program. Yet more wasted time is spent here than in actual training, for the physical limitations of the gym help to make this goal nearly impossible.

Therefore, instead of emphasis upon physical training, gym should be devoted to a program designed to aid boys who desire instruction and to make facilities available to others who merely desire to participate in athletics. Recently, the gym teachers have been more willing to allow some individual freedom; we hope this is not just another brief case of spring fever.

Bureau Needs Summer Helpers Offers Wide Spectrum of Jobs

by Liz Inglis

The Central Volunteer Bureau offers a variety of volunteer jobs this summer. Volunteers can work in nursing homes, hospitals, handicap centers, nurseries, neighborhood centers, and the Health Museum.

In nursing homes, the volunteer can be a friendly visitor or a medical aid to the patients. The friendly visitor talks, plays games, and walks with the patients. The medical aide helps the doctors and nurses with the patients' medical care.

THE HOSPITAL volunteer must be at least sixteen years old to be allowed to work directly with the patients. He feeds the patients, works in a lab, or helps in the pediatrics ward. Fourteen and fifteen-year-olds can work in a hospital office and in the coffee shop.

Handicap centers help the physically or mentally handicapped. The volunteer works at the center or in a day park in camp program for disabled children. He is one child's constant companion and helps his child to live better with his handicap.

PARENTS WHO WORK all day leave their children who are between ages three and six with volunteers at the day nursery. The children receive meals, play games, and listen to stories until evening when their parents pick them up after work. Volunteers organize and join in the young children's activities.

Headstart is another program for children ages three to six; however, it lasts only half a day. Headstart prepares needy preschool children for the classroom learning situation. The volunteer teaches and plays with the children.

NEIGHBORHOOD CENTERS provide amusement and learning for needy children of all ages. Volunteers supervise and engage in sports, games, and arts and crafts with the children. Last summer at East End Neighborhood House, children painted a mural on the outside of an old garage. Some tutoring is available, but a more extensive tutoring program exists in the schools. The city school tutoring program needs volunteers to teach basic subjects in grades one through six.

The Cleveland Health Museum wants student guides to lead visitors on tours of its exhibits.

The Central Volunteer Bureau needs volunteers! Any student who is interested in doing volunteer work this summer should call the Central Volunteer Bureau at 781-2944.

The Sour Grapevine

by Suzy Snickerbocker

Kenny Reisenfeld, your wish for a social column has finally been granted, though permission came only over Amanda Peachtree's dead body.

Senior girls are breathing easier now that the truckers' strike is over. After they had passed the first trial of securing an escort to the prom, they were found frantically fishing for formals in stores whose stock was stuck in New York waiting for a truck.

THE RESULTS of their search are scheduled for a private showing on Senior Prom night, June 10, at the Somerset Inn.

"No-Doze" bottles in hand, I am anxious to see the outcome of the annual struggle for sleepless survival, the see-who-can-stay-up-the-longest-on-the-6:30-a.m.-bus-to-Cedar-Point contest.

Early this month, the spotlight on Saturday night Sharcs' performance fell on the chests of the boys in the show much to the embarrassment of senior moderator Liz Oviatt. In protest of their having a teacher assigned to their locker room, they labeled themselves in all too legible letters with the blushing narrator's name.

A REMINDER TO myself and the gross majority of starving but slimming females: there are only 24 more diet-days until summer and the inescapable swimsuit that comes with it.

The new Shakerite staff says goodbye and good luck to the seniors who will seek their fortunes and spend their parents' at college next year.

YCHR Promotes Awareness; Session Spawns New Values

by Cyndi Gold

Following the footsteps of Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice, or at least heading in the same general direction, Shaker's Youth Council on Human Relations sponsored a sensitivity training session after school Thursday, May 14, in the social room.

A CO-ORDINATOR of Laboratory Training Associates and Assistant Professor of Education at Hiram College, Dr. William D. Carrell, led the two-hour activity which introduced the participants to exercises intended to develop greater self-awareness and awareness of other people.

One such excercise required a small group to determine which of six suffering candidates should be granted use of a hospital's only kidney machine. When YCHR's murder-minded president Dave Adams, chose to eliminate the young mother from the running, someone mercilessly accused him of having "just killed eight children."

After making their decisions, the students examined themselves and each other in relation to the values represented by their decision, the persons in each group having the most or least influence, and the reactions of group members toward nonconforming opinions.

ODDLY ENOUGH, one activity designed to increase awareness of human interaction involved inventing a machine. All of the parts of the invention, however, were actually about thirty-five intertwined YCHR members moving and making sounds in unison—one hesitates to call it harmony.

From a distance the group looked like one beautifully imperfect, wonderfully imprecise, and whole-heartedly unautomated, human machine.

In other activities, Dr. Carrell helped to make individuals aware of their non-verbal behavior and ease ordinarily unnoticed tensions like that of merely holding up their heads. Nearly all of the sensitivity seekers liked the young professor and the sense-expanding experience.

Students meditate at YCHR sensitivity training session.

IN THE WORDS that YCHR faculty sponsor, Joseph Szwaja, might use, "the feed-back was favorable."

The Shakerite received a Certificate of Merit in the high school press competition at St. Bonaventure University. Peter Borowitz (column writing), Dave Hansell (editorial writing), Jim Holdstein (feature writing), and Bill Ratnoff (editorial writing) all won individual awards.

The Shakerite staff would like to express its appreciation to Dr. Greenham for the discussion groups which he organized to provide any interested students with information about drugs and drug abuse. The informal sessions allowed participants to meet with graduate medical students without the often inhibiting presence of a Shaker faculty or staff member.

Undefeated Cindermen Capture League Title

Red Raiders Down Heights As Mosley, Kramers Star

Shaker High's track team, led by Tom Mosley and the Kramers, is now the Lake Erie League champions as a result of defeating their last two opponents, Heights and Lakewood.

ON THE FIRST day of the Heights meet which took two days to complete because of rain, Shaker was paced by Brian Clarke's first place in the shot, Mosley's first in the high hurdles, the Kramers and Ray Booker's sweep of the mile run and by the victory of the 880-yard relay team of Cedric Liggens, Cottrell Brantley, Tony Webbs, and Maurice Glover. Rob Nathanson, Ken Jones, Bob Gross, Rob Wallach, Jon Kilroy, Mark Balogh, and Rob Harris also scored important points for the Raiders.

The meet's second day which began with Shaker trailing 47-39 saw the Raiders take over the lead and win the meet 65-62. Mosley's victory in the low hurdles, and the one-two finishes of Jim and Jeff Kramer in the 880-yard run and of Keith Brown and John Hopwood in the two-mile run brought victory to Shaker. Gary Kastner, Liggens, and Glover also tallied for Shaker this second day of track festivities.

THE NEXT DAY the Raiders downed Lakewood, 73-54. Clarke, Harris, Brown, Mosley, Kilroy, and Jeff Kramer all captured first places for Shaker.

Shaker finished third in the District meet with the Kramers, Mosley, Brown, and Clarke qualifying for the regional meet. Only the Kramers in the mile run and Mosley in the high hurdles survived the regionals to advance to the state meet.

Brian Clarke unleashes shot 52'2" to help down Heights.

THE RAIDERS ended their regular season by placing second in the LEL Individual Championship meet at Lakewood. Jim Kramer, who set a record in the half-mile run, Jeff Kramer, who set one in the mile run, Mosley the victor in both barrier events, and Brown, the two-mile run winner, performed excellently for the Raiders.

Jim Kramer's time in the 880-yard run was 1:55.9 while Jeff Kramer's time in the mild run was 4:20.7.

Four Swatters All-Star Picks

With four games remaining in the season, Shaker's baseball team has compiled an overall record of 15-6. The Raiders' L.E.L. record of 10-4 puts them in second place behind Brush.

IN THE SECOND half of the season Shaker's record is 6-3. They have defeated Heights, University School, Lakewood, Shaw, Parma and Normandy, and lost to Normandy, Euclid, and Brush.

The Raiders have been held together by their solid hitting and the team's good attitude. Coach Fred Heinlen commented that it was probably the team's lack of pitching depth which cost them a shot at the L.E.L. title.

SHAKER'S LEADING hitters this season have been Tony Manning and Ed Rose. Manning leads the team with a .395 batting average and also with an overall on base average of .508. Greg Golenberg has a .487 on base average while Ed Rose's is .481.

The Raiders placed four players on this year's all-L.E.L. teams. Tony Manning (left field) was named to the first team, Ed Rose (first base), Greg Golenberg (pitcher), to the second team, and Lester Brooks (second base) to the third team. In addition, Rose and Golenberg were named to the Eastern all-stars.

Inside the Locker Room

by Peter Jones

Although the accomplishments of Lester Brooks, Shaker's first nine-letterman, and Tim Karpoff, state wrestling champion, rank as some of Shaker's greatest athletic feats, the consistent sporting excellence of seniors Jeff and Jim Kramer, Tom Mosley, Steve Sanna, and Ed Rose cannot be overlooked.

THE KRAMER TWINS, co-captains of this year's Lake Erie League track championship team, have starred both on the cross country course and on the cinders. The Naval Academy-bound brothers have been the Raiders' top harriers the past two years, and Jeff last season placed third in the state cross country meet. Jim, a three-year track letterman, and Jeff, who finished third at Columbus in the mile run last year, will both run the mile in this year's state finals.

Another cinderman who qualified for Saturday's meet is Tom Mosley. Tom, who caught six touchdown passes as a gridder last year, is a three-year varsity track performer and the LEL and the district champion in both hurdle events. He has also developed into one of the area's better quarter-milers.

STEVE SANNA, one of Shaker's most versatile athletes, has played two years of varsity basketball, baseball, and football. He was the basketball captain last year. Steve's ten touchdown passes helped earn him a berth at quarterback on last fall's All-League football squad while his 15.5 scoring average won him honorable mention in basketball.

Ed Rose, who will attend Stanford University, has starred in both football and baseball. His forte is baseball where he has lettered three years and this year made second team All-LEL at first base. Ed currently is hitting well above .300.

Golfers Capture LEL Crown; Netters Suffer Dismal Year

Led by Captain Ted Biskind and juniors Zack Bruell and Bob Chew, the Red Raider golf team recently garnered the Lake Erie League golfing title for the second year in a row. In successfully defending their title, Coach Raymond's golfers finished with an overall record of 10-1 and 8-1 in LEL play. The only defeat suffered was at the hands of Brush.

SHAKER'S DUFFERS continued their fine play with a second place finish in the Lake Erie League tournament and a third in the district meet. Biskind and Chew, finishing second and fourth, respectively, led the way in the league meet as Shaker was nosed out by Valley Forge.

In the districts, Shaker once again was beaten by Forge and was narrowly nipped by St. Ignatius. Biskind and Chew made fine showings, finishing tied for fourth. By capturing the ensuing sudden-death playoff, Chew assured himself of a spot in the state finals to be held in Columbus May 26-27.

BECAUSE OF THE Ohio State disorders, for the first time in recent years the state finals will be held on a public Columbus course.

Shaker's tennis team, directed by Coach Fred Brown, entered district play with a 2-3 spring record. Facing some of the strongest teams in the area, the netters were defeated early in the competition.

JUNIOR ROB FEISS, lettering for his second year, was fourth seeded in the singles division but lost in the quarter finals. John Holdstein also represented Shaker in the singles. Seniors Craig Brown and captain Harley Goldstein, both lettermen, fared better in doubles play. They smashed Solon 6-0 twice but then lost a close set, 6-4, 7-5, and 6-4. The third-seeded team from Euclid slipped by Red Raiders Gary Gross and Tom Freeman 6-3 and 11-9 in the other matches.

Next year's returning lettermen, Feiss, Holdstein, and Ted

Junior golfer Bob Chew preps for upcoming state meet.

Schlitz, will give the netters a strong base for next fall. Along with them juniors Steve Kish, John McSorley, and Jim Mielziner, and sophomores Scott Herlands and Mike Butler also show promise. Because of these returnees captain Goldstein thinks that next year's team will be one of the best in the league.
